Password and Access ID Guidance

- Passwords and access IDs should not contain any personal information, (some examples are: nicknames, phone numbers, social security numbers, or date of birth) and should not reflect any of your account information.
- Both the access ID and password are case sensitive so use this to your advantage when creating them.
- Good passwords and access IDs use upper and lower case, use more than 7 characters, and use a combination of letters and numbers.
- Password and access ID should not be stored electronically on your device or written down.
